Rosetta Projects

How do you write a book?

Getting a book written and printed is easier than it used to be. A lot of people want to write a book but don't know how to get started, or for that matter, how to do the middle or the end. That's where The Story Company comes in.

We'll come alongside and help you collect, organize and edit your journals, letters and photos. If most of your memories are unwritten, an experienced interviewer and writer will help you record them. The digital recordings are transcribed and incorporated into your biography.

We'll work closely with you every step of the way. It's your book. Success means the book has your voice and is a reflection of your values, history, personality and the themes that have characterized your life.

We use new low-cost layout and printing processes to produce a book you'll be proud to give to your family and friends.

Why tell your story?

You have a fascinating story to tell.

Henry Louis Mencken, famous humorous journalist and critic (1880–1956), said:

"Who ever heard, indeed, of an autobiography that was not interesting? I can recall none in all the literature of the world."

It's true! Story-telling is as old as mankind, and everyone likes a good story. But there are other reasons. Stories are passed from generation to generation. If you tell your story now, it lives on for those you love and those that love you.

If you have children or grandchildren, the book could be a step towards:

- A sense of cultural and family identity for the next generation.
- Healing because of a better understanding of family history.
- Awareness of customs, values and issues that have arisen in the past and could be significant to future generations.

Who are the people and what are the stories of your life?

You have a fascinating story to tell.
